Angelo Meringolo, 33, Hurrying from Work to Dig His Garden, Took Chances with Knickerbocker Express -Death of Michael Sweeney-Important Cases As-the past few days and caused his death.

Mr. Sweeney was born in Queens county, Ireland, November 10, 1845, and camed to the United States in 1863, and direct to Westerly, where he has resided since that time. For twenty-five years he worked at the trade of stone cutting for the Smith Granite company, and for the past nine years has been manager of the Sweeney granite works, recently incorporated as the Westerly Quarries company. He was a charter member of Narragansett council, No. 21, Knights of Columbus, and for many years was a trustee of the Church of the Immaculate Conception.

Mr. Sweeney married Mary Feeley, July 15 1866, and she died August 24, 1884. Four children have also preceded him. He is survived by two sons and four daughters: Judge John W. Sweeney of Westerly, Eugene Sweeney of Fordham hospital, New York; Miss Sadie Sweeney of Bellevue hospital, New York, and the Misses Catherine, Ellzabeth and Helen Sweeney, who resided at home with their father.

Assistant Attorney Harry P. Cross has arranged the criminal docket of the superior court of Washington county to be disposed of at Kingston next Monday. Among the indictments of local interest are those against Joseph S. Grills, for embezzlement, and Thomas J. Bannon and William Dougherty for Biquor nuisances. Among the complaints are these Westerly cases: Cornelius Bransfield, chief of police, against Angelo Comparto, keeping liquor for sale; same against Joseph Ouray, keeping for sale; same against John Dougherty, against certain liquors and vessels; same against Charles Dutton.

Claude Burroughs of Mystic, who, with Steve Pember, pitched the Westerly high school in the championship of the interscholastic baseball league last season, is now a student at the Mercer college in Macon Ga., and is the crack pitcher of the feam representing that college on the baseball field, and is the shining star outfielder when not on the mound. In a recent game against the Buffalo team of the Eastern lengue, Burroughs made four hits in six times up and he pitched the first winning game against Geogla university.

Last Tuesday Burroughs was in the field in the second game against Georof 6 to 1.

The Macon Telegraph, in reporting the game, says: "There was no run getting until the fourth inning; Burroughs, up first for Mercer in that inning, swung hard, hitting the ball fair on the hose, lifting it over left-field fence for the longest home run ever seen on the local diamond. The ball crossed the fence down in the field and cleared it by fully twenty feet, while the batter gaily trotted the bases.

"In the eighth inning Burroughs again hit safe, this time for three bases, and later scored when Davidson popped one safe over shortstop. Burroughs led in the play all through the game. He was at but three times, made three hits two runs and one three hits, two runs, and one

"My, but Glen Curtiss would have envied that ball that hit over the fence. If Curtiss could only get the fence. If Curtiss could only get the soaring qualities in his aeroplane as that ball had, railroads would go out of business for a while, except to haul freight trains. Burroughs is a dandy, with three times at bat and a homer, a three-bagger and a single to his credit. Isn't that going some?"

There was a horrible fatality at the Westerly callway station Saturday afternoon when Angelo Meringolo was literally ground to pieces by a fast express train that was speeding through Westerly at the rate of fifty miles an hour. Meringolo was hurrying from his work to his home at 49 Pierce street and wanted to get over the Canal street crossing before the train came along. He was seen running by the Martin house and along the small stretch of sidewalk that leads Martin Sweeney, a resident of Westerly for forty-seven years, died just before midnight on Friday at his home in Mountain avenue. For the past two months he has been afflicted with bronchial asthma and cardiac weakness, which developed rapidly within the past few days and caused his death.

Just as Meringolo stepped under the gate, the locomotive gave a shriek of warning, which seemed to daze Meringolo, for he stepped on the track and faced the locomotive, seemingly transfixed, and a few seconds later the man was cut into small pieces, the remains being strewn from a few east of the crossing to the signal tower some two hundred feet distant, the crushed head being thrown to one side of the track in front of the entrance to the station, and small portions of the body being thrown on the west bound track. The train came to a standstill just beyond the tower, but by that time the entire train had passed over some portion of the body of Meringolo.

Dr. J. Howard Morgan, the medical examiner, supervised the collection of the remains of the unfortunate man, which were picked up with a shovel and deposited as carefully as possible in an empty sugar barrel; with the exception of a small portion of the back there was not a piece of the body one foot in length. The medical examiner made investigation of the circumstances and was of opinion that the railroad company was not responsible for the death. He gave permission for the removal of the remains. Soon thereafter the barrel with its gruesome contents were placed in the undertaker's ambulance and prepared for burtal.

The deceased was a gardener and dertaker's ambulance and prepared for burial.

The deceased was a gardener and had been employed for the past five years by Dr. John Champlin. Saturday was the first day in that long period when he asked to be permitted to quit work before the regular time. Dr. Champlin speaks in the highest terms of the young man; he was competent, diligent, of good habits and strictly honest, and, as the doctor said, was just about commencing to live in comfort when he died. He had already paid money as an option for a home of Angelo Meringolo was born in Italy, was thirty-three years of age, and leaves a wife and three small children, the eldest being only four years of age. He has two sisters who reside in Westerly, besides relatives in his native country. By reason of his being in the employment of Dr. Champlin, he was extensively known to many residents of Westerly, and all refer to he was extensively known to many residents of Westerly, and all refer to him as a young man of exceptionally good character.

His funeral was held Sunday afternoon, the members of the Italian Mutual Benefit society attending in a body. The services for the dead were held in the Church of the Immaculate Conception and burial was in St. Michael's cemetery.

New Edison Records For MAY

On Sale April 25th

HIS month's Edison Record list is remarkable in that it introduces two new Grand Opera stars of the Manhattan Opera House, New York-Carmen Melis, prima donna; and Gustav Huberdeau, basso; besides records by Marguerita Sylva, Blanche Arral and Riccardo Martin. But not only from the standpoint of Grand Opera is this month's list remarkable. The biggest hit of the season, "Has anybody here seen Kelly?" is on the Amberol (four minute) list and Billy Murray's newest success "He's a College Boy" is a head-liner from the Standard (two minute) list. And these are just samples-your dealer will play anything on this list, you wish to hear, on the Edison Phonograph.
